ALL MISSOURIANS THEY SAY NOWADAYS

Have to be "shown." True or not, we have adopted the idea in getting up our "ads," hence we quote a big line of prices. It makes it as easy for you to do your grocery shopping and "show" you and the Kansas across the line as well, that our talk means business, and that low prices here means the whole stock. Not for one day, but all the time.

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

Will give you some good bargains, as our list tells. We make these prices good for three days to save advertising expense, and would suggest you cut this out and stick it up in your kitchen. As prices are steadily advancing, you might make good use of it Wednesday if you did not need groceries sooner.

HOSTILE AS EVER

GERMAN PUBLIC STILL STRONGLY ANTI-AMERICAN.

EXPORTERS MUCH CONCERNED

FRONTON UNFRIENDLINESS IS COSTING THEM DEAR.

Americans Transferring Orders to Other Countries—German Government Continues to Protest Its Friendliness to America.

BERLIN, May 14.—(Copyrighted 1938, by the Associated Press.) While there has been a marked change in the anti-American comments of the official press of Germany, there has been no change in the opinions of the people, which continue to be most hostile to the United States, especially among the upper classes. An American lady who married a German nobleman, both of them in constant touch with the highest society, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press: "You have no conception of the bitter feeling against America. It is impossible for me to go anywhere without hearing my country abused on all sides. We are accused of being a nation of hypocritical tradesmen who forced a war with Spain with no other object than of financial gain."

The war news continues to arrive here twelve hours late, and the Lokal Anzeiger is the only Berlin paper with enterprise enough to get a few brief specials from New York direct.

When the reports arrived of the return of the Spanish fleet to Cadix, the newspapers emptied the vein of their wrath upon their erstwhile protectors. The Berlin Tagblatt ironically remarked: "Without firing a single shot, this mysterious fleet has excited repeatedly panic in New York, and has kept the whole American fleet in check. Admiral Sampson's blockading fleet ceased to blockade and Commodore Schley's flying squadron did not fly, but lay, as though hypnotized, at Hampton Roads, dumbly awaiting the uncanny fleet which had been at sea a week and a half, yet was nowhere sighted. The nervousness of the Americans gave rise to veritable hallucinations. However, the Spanish admiral recognized that prudence was the better part of valor and he returned to Cadix without having reduced New York to ashes or swept the Yankees from the ocean. The honest traders and millionaires of America may, therefore, continue to tremble."

The exporters, who are greatly perturbed at the serious losses which have already resulted from the anti-American tone of the press, which losses are reported to-day to have already amounted to several million marks and which threaten to be followed by a permanent transference of orders to a friendlier nation, are making strenuous efforts to curb the newspapers.

The semi-official communications made on the subject by the government of Germany, protesting that Germany is friendly to America, may be regarded as due recognition in government circles that unfriendliness toward the United States means loss of trade.

Baron Von Buelow, the minister of foreign affairs, has reiterated to United States Ambassador White Germany's intention to observe neutrality during the war. He explained that the absence of a formal declaration on the part of Germany was simply due to the fact that Germany is not in the habit of making such declarations, even in the case of wars which are more important to her interests than the present, like the Russo-Turkish and China-Japanese wars.

The newspapers here are discussing the probability of national Spanish bankruptcy.

The papal nuncios of Munich and Berlin have had several interviews with Baron Von Buelow and Prince Hohenlohe, the imperial chancellor, with a view to trying to bring about the intervention of Germany in the war between Spain and the United States. The answers they have received are, in substance, that Germany does not deem the time ripe for intervention.

The proposition of the Russian and German newspapers to make Europe independent of America for grain supplies by the establishment of state granaries is discussed. The government press contends there are no means to accomplish this and that Russia, especially, is unable to supply the deficiency. It is further pointed out that there was a famine in 1918, and it is added that famine at the present moment is threatening many districts of Russia.

The officials of the German foreign office are watching events in the Philippine Islands in the closest manner possible. German subjects at Manila have already claimed for damages against the United States, but the foreign office people say they must await the conclusion of the war before anything can be done in the matter. It is said, however, that the German admiral commanding in the far East has been empowered, in case of riots at Manila, to land troops to protect the German consulate and German residents of that place.

Emperor William, at Metz, has received in audience General Count von Munster-Ledenburg, the German ambassador to France, who furnished his majesty with reports on the subject of the French elections sentiment and on the Hispano-American war feeling.

The emperor is elated at the reception he has met with at Metz. Even the old French families participated in the torchlight processions in his honor.

Prince Henry, of Prussia, has been accorded a brilliant official reception at Berlin. A very large crowd of people witnessed the prince's arrival by a special train. His royal highness proceeded to the German legation. A long series of official and private entertainments has been arranged.

The recent rains have had an unfavorable influence upon Prince Bismarck's health and the Hamburgers' torchlight procession in his honor, arranged for next week, has been postponed until the autumn.

REFUGEES FROM SAGUA.

British Steamer Strathdee Arrives in New York With Forty-Six Cuban and American Refugees.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The British steamer Strathdee, Captain Currie, which left Sagua, Cuba, on May 9, arrived in port this morning, bringing as passengers forty-five American refugees and American citizens who were obliged to flee for their lives. After the fugitives had been on board the Strathdee for twelve hours, several Spanish officials came on board and closely examined the passengers and wanted to take several of them ashore, but, owing to the vigorous protest of the British consul, none was taken. The passengers say many Americans were left behind in Cuba, not having sufficient funds to pay their passage. There were only a few soldiers in the city, as nearly all the Spanish forces had been called to aid in the defense of Havana. Sagua was not under the blockade when the Strathdee left port. On the 10th inst., the cruiser Machias and a torpedo boat halted the Strathdee, and upon learning her destination, permitted her to proceed.

ANOTHER CALL PREDICTED.

Representative Lewis Considers That 100,000 More Troops Will Be Asked For.

CHICAGO, May 14.—A special from Washington to the News says: "You can put it down that the president will issue another call for another 100,000 volunteers within the next ten days," remarked Representative Lewis, of Washington, this morning, as he was leaving the White House. "I know that this matter has been considered by the president and his cabinet."

"The secretary of war, I understood, wanted the first call for 300,000 volunteers, but it was considered best to divide the question and issue another call later. At the time the first call was issued it was not contemplated that we would take the people into the war, and hence need more volunteers."

Martin, J. F. Samples and E. N. Hurst; coroner, L. M. Dixon.

Mrs. Lease in the Far West.

SEATTLE, WASH., May 14.—Mary Ella Lease, of Kansas, is on a lecturing tour in this state on "Social problems of the day." She is not certain that she will engage in the pending campaign in which the people vote on the constitutional amendment giving the elective franchise to women. Her lecture business may interfere.

TWO CABLES CUT

DETAILS OF WEDNESDAY'S FIGHT OFF CIENFUEGOS.

A PARTIAL SPANISH VICTORY

AMERICANS PREVENTED FROM COMPLETING THEIR TASK.

One Cable Remains Uncut—One American Killed and Six Badly Wounded. Several Fatally Wounded. Spanish Fort Blown Up.

KEY WEST, FLA., May 14.—(Copyrighted by the Associated Press.) The United States cruiser Marblehead, the gunboat Nashville and the auxiliary cruiser Windeford steamed up to the harbor of Cienfuegos early Wednesday morning with orders to cut the cable connecting Havana with Santiago de Cuba. This task was partially accomplished, but only after a terrific fight between our warships and several thousand Spanish troops, which lined the shore and lay concealed behind improvised breastworks.

One man, a seaman named Patrick Regan, of the Marblehead, was killed outright in one of the working small boats, and six men were severely wounded. In addition, a large number on board the ship received minor wounds. Captain Maguire, of the Windeford, believes that several of the six badly wounded men who were brought to Key West this morning on the Windeford cannot recover.

Following is the list of badly wounded: John Davis, of New York; John Donnan, of Fall River, Mass.; Ernest Sunkinich; Herman Hochstetter; Harry Hendrickson; all of the Marblehead.

Robert Dolts, Carter county, N. C., of the Nashville.

Soon after the arrival of the warships off Cienfuegos, four boats were launched and proceeded in shore for the purpose of grappling for the cable in order to cut it. The warships lay about 1,000 yards or more off the shore.

It was observed that the Spanish troops had assembled ashore, but it was not known that heavy guns had been placed in a masked battery, and that the old lighthouse, far out on a neck of land, had been transformed into a formidable fort.

When the commanders of the Marblehead and the Nashville called for volunteers to man the boats and cut the cable, the men responded with a jump. Lieutenant G. M. C. Winslow, of the Nashville, took command of the Nashville's boats. The shore surrounding the entrance of the harbor was first shelled, and then the boats were launched. The cable was deep in the channel and was found with difficulty.

The small boats worked cautiously and for more than an hour worked un molested on the cable. Suddenly, just as the war-
